

“Too Many Meds? Why all the fuss?”

Advocating for Safe Medication Use in Seniors

Come and learn what seniors have to say about their experiences with medication.

What is your role as a gerontological nurse? Do you know how to start this conversation?

Can you prepare a senior or a caregiver with the right questions to advocate for their own care?

We will review the changing risks of medication use as we age, as well as current Canadian statistics.

Join us and ask your questions – all perspectives encouraged!

Wednesday, November 21st, 1730-1830
